

Resort Organization Protests Closing Police Station

JOHN M. Crandall, president of the Top of the Poconos Assn. and Mount Pocono Chamber of Commerce, has protested the proposed closing of the Mount Pocono barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police.

In a letter to Gov. David L. Lawrence, with copies to Col. Frank G. McCartney, State Police commissioner, and state Sen. William Z. Scott and Rep. Van D. Yetter, Crandall called for "careful consideration before this consolidation is consummated."

Crandall said the Top of the Poconos Assn. surveyed the area and offered these reasons for continuing operation of the barracks:

1. In 20 years, the population in the areas policed by the station has increased substantially. The townships involved are Coolbaugh, Tobbyhanna, Barrett, Paradise, Pocono, Jackson, Price and the Borough of Mount Pocono. Assessed values have increased proportionally and now total $32,000,000.

2. Highways have been expanded and improved tremendously. Highways 611, 90, 290, 196 and 940 have been taken into consideration in the survey. Route 940 is the main artery to the Poconos from the Northeast Turnpike. In the not too distant future, the new Penn-Can Highway will carry tremendous additional traffic through the area from north to southeast.

3. Due to the heavy traffic on these highways and especially 611, unfortunately the highway accident ratio has had "an alarming increase." Most of the accidents occur on the highways in this immediate area.

4. Public liability and property damage insurance rates on motor vehicles in Monroe County have been increased 25 per cent because of the heavy claims made upon the various insurance carriers for accidents in the area. Rates for this insurance coverage in adjoining counties are 20 to 26 per cent less, according to information given the group by automobile insurance underwriters.

5. Burglary insurance rates have increased substantially due to the heavy losses caused by the increased number of burglaries in this immediate area.

6. Records of the Monroe County coroner's office show more than 55 per cent of all calls made to the coroner's office are from this immediate area.

7. There has been a tremendous increase in motor traffic as a result of the resort industries located in this area. It is estimated more than 200,000 visitors are guest in this area of the Poconos within a calendar year, 75 per cent of which is concentrated between mid-May and mid-October. Add to this the heavy use of the highways enumerated which go through this area to other points.

8. There are approximately 160 resorts and

Committee Raises Tax On Gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted Thursday to raise the federal gasoline tax another penny, to four cents a gallon.

The extra money would go to keep the 41,000-mile interstate highway construction program close to schedule. It has been slowing down because of a financial pinch, to the disappointment of federal and state officials, road contractors and motorists.

The committee meeting also produced a hint of possible financial shenanigans in the program, which is due to cost 36 billion dollars before it is finished. An investigation was set for later this year.

Highway users would pay almost a billion dollars additional during the 22 months that the four-cent rate would remain in effect. This period would begin Sept. 1. President Eisenhower asked in January for an increase to 4½ cents, to remain in effect for five years.

Direct Change

The ways and means committee until now had rejected all proposals for any increase. While it has gone part way toward meeting Eisenhower's request, it bucked him on another point by proposing transfer of some revenue from the general fund of the Treasury to the highway construction fund.

The committee called for diversion from the general fund, for three years beginning July 1, 1961, of half of the revenue from the 10 per cent manufacturers' excise on new automobiles, and two-thirds of the revenue from the 8 per cent excise on automobile parts and accessories.

The total diversion was estimated at 2½ billion dollars.

It was calculated that the extra money in the committee's plan would allow apportionment to the states of $1,800,000,000 this year for construction in the 1961 fiscal year beginning next July 1, and two billion in the following fiscal year.

Representing the defendant were Edward Krawitz and Charles R. Bensinger and the plaintiff Maxwell H. Cohen.

Veteran court observers cited the elimination of excess costs and time for both parties and the swift administrative justice provided by this form of settlement.

It was also pointed out that an arbitration system means a reduction in waste of money involved in court procedure and thus savings for everyone paying county taxes.

Initial Case Settled By Arbitration Board

FOR THE FIRST time in the history of Monroe County a dispute was settled outside the regular court procedure before a three man arbitration board yesterday.

A case between Robert Ziegler trading as the Barrett Auto Service, vs. Isaac Miller was presented before the newly created arbitration board and, in record time, an amicable settlement for all persons concerned was reached.

The case was the first to come before an arbitration board made possible by an amended Pennsylvania arbitration act. The act provides that if the county elects to adopt the provisions of the act cases involving the sum of $2,000 or less must be arbitrated before a board of three lawyers appointed by the prothonotary of Monroe County. President-Judge of Monroe County courts Fred W. Davis decided in favor of the act in the May term of court.

Under the act all lawyers in Monroe County are on a list of approved arbitrators and, as each case comes up for arbitration, the prothonotary takes the next three lawyers on the list to serve for the case.

The arbitration board is designed to settle small cases quickly and cheaply relieving courts for the transaction of more important business and thus avoiding delay in the administration of justice which is prevalent throughout the country.

If the award of the board of arbitrators is not satisfactory to any of the parties to the case, they may withdraw from the decision and appeal to the county court.

In the case involved yesterday the plaintiff Robert Ziegler disputed a $179.40 bill from the Barrett Auto Service. The arbitration board composed of C. Edward DePuy, Lester T. Brown and Elmer D. Christine awarded to the plaintiff $112.40.

Representing the defendant were Edward Krawitz and Charles R. Bensinger and the plaintiff Maxwell H. Cohen.

Veteran court observers cited the elimination of excess costs and time for both parties and the swift administrative justice provided by this form of settlement.

It was also pointed out that an arbitration system means a reduction in waste of money involved in court procedure and thus savings for everyone paying county taxes.

Senate Okays Pension Bill For Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate late Thursday passed 86-6 a veterans pension bill boosting the cost of benefits not connected to military service by 10 billion dollars over the next 40 years.

The bill now goes back to the House for consideration of minor differences between Senate and House versions.

Before passage, the Senate by a 75-20 vote stripped off the measure a series of changes its Finance Committee had made in the House bill. These would have cut its cost by an estimated 21 billion dollars between now and the year 2,000.

Main Purposes

The bill, which concerns only pensions for veterans with non-service-connected disabilities and their dependents, has two main purposes:

1. To put the pensions for the future on a sliding scale as determined by need.

2. To bring widows of World War II and Korean War veterans under the program on the same basis as World War I widows, effective July 1, 1960. This means all the widows could be eligible for pensions even though their husbands had no service-connected disabilities.

Did Plastic Surgery Swing Miss Universe Pageant?

TOKYO (AP) — Did Akiko Kojima receive a bust-enlarging plastic injection before she won the Miss Japan and Miss Universe beauty contest?

A Tokyo plastic surgeon, Dr. Toshio Matsui, said Thursday he gave the Japanese fashion model such an injection.

Dr. Matsui said a story by the newspaper Sports Nippon that Miss Kojima underwent such an operation in Matsui's hospital—under a false name—was true.

This would mean a construction setback from original schedules of about 20 per cent in fiscal 1961 and about 10 per cent in fiscal 1962. The Public Works Committee of the House, which has proposed construction at a rate of $2,200,000 for each of the two years, has still to pass on the Ways and Means proposal.

The Ways and Means vote was 15-9. The plan adopted was advanced by Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis), who lost on a similar proposal 15-8 only last Monday.

A Tokyo plastic surgeon, Dr. Toshio Matsui, said Thursday he gave the Japanese fashion model such an injection.

Dr. Matsui said a story by the newspaper Sports Nippon that Miss Kojima underwent such an operation in Matsui's hospital—under a false name—was true.

Dr. Matsui's statement brought a blushing denial by Miss Kojima herself, and angry denials from her relatives.

When she won the Miss Universe title last month at Long Beach, Calif., Miss Kojima's measurements were given as a 37-23-38.

At Honolulu, where she passed on her way home, Miss Kojima was asked about the plastic injection story.

"It just isn't true," she said with a blush.

Dr. Matsui had said: "Miss Kojima is just one of many such Japanese beauties who received plastic surgeon's treatments. A number of famous Japanese actresses also received similar operations."

He said Miss Kojima, 24, received the treatment at his clinic a short time before the Miss Japan contest last June.

Sports Nippon said "the operation is simple but painful."

"A coffee cupful of liquid plastic is injected into the bosom. The injection is not to injure the bosom, the injection is done by one shot. The operation takes only one hour with local anesthetics. When the anesthetic wears off, the part aches."

Bust-enlarging injections and operations are not common in the United States, said a spokesman for the American Medical Association.

The operations will try to rebuild their political strength and prepare for the next Congress—just military action—probably in the October-to-December dry season, Phoumi said.

Red Troops Depart From Northern Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The royal government said Thursday most of the Communist troops in northern Laos have returned to Red North Viet Nam, leaving 1,000 guerrillas behind.

Col. Phoumi Nosavan, secretary of state for defense, said the Reds now occupy only one town, Muong Son, about 40 miles inside the frontier near the famed battleground of Dien Bien Phu.

Phoumi said authorities in Hanoi, capital of North Viet Nam, ordered the withdrawal about five days ago when the Laotian government moved part of its 25,000-man army into northern Laos.

The remaining guerrillas, mostly so-called Blak Thai tribesmen, are members of the Communist Pathet Lao movement that formerly governed the two northern provinces of Sam Neua and Phong Saly.

Sports Nippon said "the operation is simple but painful."

"A coffee cupful of liquid plastic is injected into the bosom. The injection is not to injure the bosom, the injection is done by one shot. The operation takes only one hour with local anesthetics. When the anesthetic wears off, the part aches."

Eisenhower expects to spend much of the time at his country estate here in advance of his departure Aug. 26 for Bonn, Paris and London.

The operations will try to rebuild their political strength and prepare for the next Congress—just military action—probably in the October-to-December dry season, Phoumi said.

Discoverer V Makes Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Satellite Discoverer V zoomed into orbit Thursday, blasted into space by a new, extra-powerful fuel.

The 1,700-pound satellite sent back radio signals loud and clear as it sped through north-south polar orbit.

The shot is a test of hardware designed to carry monkeys into orbit later in the Discoverer series.

The Air Force will attempt to catch the ejected nose capsule as it comes down by parachute near Hawaii.

The 78-foot two-stage rocket thundered off its seaside launching pad at 12 noon PDT.

A tracking station in Alaska picked up the satellite's signal at 1:29 p. m. PDT as it completed its first circle of earth.

This information indicated the satellite reaches a distance of 450 miles at its most distant point from earth and is 136 miles at its closest point.

The time required to orbit is approximately 94 minutes.

The new fuel, known as RJ-1, put the Discoverer series back on a successful track. The two previous rockets failed to orbit.

There was speculation that the capsule or its rocket-vehicle may contain an advanced type of scanning equipment.

Plans for recovery call for the capsule to be ejected on the 17th pass around the earth. This would be about 26 hours after its launching at noon Thursday.

Eight C119 Flying Boxcars based in Hawaii will try to snare the capsule as it comes down by parachute. If they fail, ships will search the ocean for it.

Launching of Discoverer V had been postponed four times because of fog and once for technical reasons.

Ike Wins By Vote Of 229-201

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House handed President Eisenhower a smashing victory Thursday by approving a bill he said is needed to end corruption in labor unions.

The 229-201 roll-call vote was a stinging defeat for House Democratic leaders and leaders of organized labor who had fought for a much milder antiracketeering bill. Eisenhower, taking his campaign to the people in a nationwide radio-TV speech last week, had said the Democratic bill wouldn't do the job of ending union abuses.

Eisenhower hailed the House action, saying it offers real hope that Congress will pass an effective union control measure. In a statement issued at his vacation headquarters at Gettysburg, Pa., the President said:

"With I am sure, millions of Americans I applaud the House of Representatives for its vote today in support of the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill which would deal effectively with the abuses disclosed by the McClellan committee.

Congratulations

"I congratulate all those who voted in support of this legislation. This action gives cause for real hope that the Congress will ultimately pass a good labor reform bill."

The House put off until Friday a formal vote on final passage of its bill, but that appeared a foregone conclusion.

In an angry, arm-waving speech before the vote, House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts accused the Eisenhower administration of exerting undue pressure on Republicans to support the bill Eisenhower wants. McCormack said that bill is slanted against organized labor.

McCormack shouted that Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers were at the Capitol applying the pressure. McCormack said they did so in a like situation last year, and that as a result many Republicans were defeated for re-election.

On the key vote, a coalition of 134 Republicans and 95 Democrats, mostly Southerners, massed behind the bill introduced by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich).

They substituted it for a measure drafted by the House Labor Committee. Democratic leaders, including Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), mustered 184 Democrats and 17 Republicans for the committee bill its backers termed a middle ground approach to the problem.

Final Passage

That left only the formality of a vote on final passage. Democratic strategists conceded they had little hope of upsetting the Eisenhower-backed bill. Its defeat would leave no labor legislation before the House.

However, there was some question as to what will happen to this bill once it gets into conference with the Senate. Last April, the Senate passed a labor control bill that stops well short of some of the stringent provisions in the Landrum-Griffin version.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the Senate bill, was asked by newsmen if he thought a compromise now could be worked out by the Senate and the House.

"It makes it difficult," he said, "but added that 'I'm going to try because I don't think we ought to go home without a labor bill.'

Strike May Close Some Stores In Area Next Week

One Local Chain In District 11

THE GREAT Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. and Acme Stores have announced in Philadelphia they will lock out their employees if Food Fair Store employees go on strike Monday at midnight.

The three major chains of grocery supermarkets are negotiating jointly in current contract talks with workers of District 11, Retail Clerks International Assn.

The Food Fair workers in the district have voted to strike unless new contracts are agreed upon by the union and the chain.

A strike will close markets in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Bangor, Pen Argyl, Catawissa, Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton, as well as in other cities throughout eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Acme Stores in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg belong to District 11. The A&P Stores here, however, hire employees belonging to the Wilkes-Barre union and will not be effected.

Membership

There are 1,300 members in Lehigh Valley Local 1361, Retail Clerks. About 400 are employed by Food Fair, 400 by A&P, and 300 by Acme. The remainder are with other food store chains, none of which will be affected by any strike.

Charles Shiffles, Bethlehem, representing the local in the negotiations, said A&P and Acme rejected proposals by the union to extend terms of old contracts for 30-day periods.

The food chains are asking a three-year contract with a pay increase now and another in 18 months. The union wants a 27-month contract.

In other words, the chains are offering full time clerks and checkers a wage increase of four dollars weekly now with an additional four dollars in 18 months. The union wants an immediate six dollars increase with an additional four dollars in 14 months.

In major contention is a proposal by the chains for the establishment of a "bag boy" classification. The union charges that these persons will be used for all-around store work and will cut standards in the market.

Included in the 14-point package the union has submitted for consideration, besides the wage increase and job classification requests, is a new holiday clause, a pension program and other fringe benefits.

Service At Temple Israel

TEMPLE Israel will hold its Sabbath Service at 8 p.m. today. Rabbi Joshua Sodden will conduct the service and speak on the topic "The Life and Times of Sir Moses Montefiore."

Sunday, August 9, which corresponds to Av 5 on the Jewish calendar marked the anniversary of the passing of this outstanding 19th Century Philanthropist.

Montefiore who was born in Italy in 1784 spent most of his life in England where he died in 1885 at the age of 101. In 1837 he was elected Sheriff of London and was knighted by Queen Victoria. He was honored by kings, princes and sultans and loved by millions.

Shupp Retires As Associate Judge

HOMER A. SHUPP, associate judge of Monroe County for nearly 24 years, yesterday announced his retirement from the office, effective Sept. 1.

The 71-year-old Effort resident is stepping down from the bench, he said, in order to allow more time for travel. "We plan to see some of the country," he explained, "and want to be free to take a few trips when we feel like it."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shupp are enjoying "fairly good health, considering our ages," he said. He will be 72 years old Sept. 24 and she is "slightly younger."

The associate judge will wind up his court duties late this month, assisting President Judge Fred W. Davis during a session of argument court. Also on hand will be John Smith, of Barrett, the county's other associate judge.

Shupp said he submitted his resignation in a letter sent to Gov. David L. Lawrence on Aug. 6. A few days later, he received a letter of acceptance from the Governor's office.

When he retires Sept. 1 he will have completed 23 years and eight months on the bench. He was first elected in 1935, taking office in 1936, and served seven and one-half years under the late Judge Samuel Shull. The remainder of his four six-year terms were under Judge Davis.

Lawrence To Name Shupp Successor

WHO will be named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Homer A. Shupp, of Effort, as one of Monroe County's two associate judges?

This was the question heard frequently in and around the Court House yesterday in the wake of Shupp's announcement.

In cases where a judge either resigns or dies, the appointment of a successor rests with the Governor—in this case, David L. Lawrence. The resignation was submitted to him Aug. 6 and accepted by his office under date of Aug. 8.

A lifelong Democrat, Shupp will serve out all but four months of four six-year terms.

Plans Meeting

John A. Brisbin, county Democratic chairman, said he will call a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee within the next few days and discuss possible choices for the appointment.

He said he learned about the resignation only yesterday and therefore had little opportunity to give the matter much thought.

Monroe County voters will elect two new associate judges at the November election. Walter D. Heckman and Harry T. Hamblin are the Democratic nominees. George Graff and Eva M. Taylor are the choices on the Republican ticket.

The Daily Record is recommending—editorially—the appointment by Gov. Lawrence of Hal H. Harris, former burgess of Stroudsburg, for the four-month interim term.

SHUPP SERVED A NUMBER of years on the School Board in Chestnuthill Township. It was during this time, he recalls, that the board closed a number of one-room schools in the township and consolidated them in the new school which it built at Broadheadsville.

His father owned and operated a wagon-spoke factory at Effort for many years. This was later abandoned when the automobile and truck became common-place and put the wagon industry on the decline, here and elsewhere.

Shupp also sold the family farm, where he had planted as many as 700 bushels of potatoes a year, and about 10 years ago retired from farming.

His main interest in agriculture now, he says, is his family-size garden, where he and his wife raise enough produce for their own use and also devote some space to "owders."

The Shupps are the parents of two sons, Bertine A. of Bethlehem, and Gordon L. of Effort, also four grandsons.

Provision

The legislation provides that the commission's orders be subject to approval by two-thirds of the affected farmers.

Other bills passed and sent to the Senate would:

Increase fines for vandalism involving highway signs to $100 for locally erected signs and $200 for state signs (191-0).

Further regulate boiler inspections and include farms (129-61).

Establish procedures for magistrates, alderman, and justices of the peace to follow in handling small claims cases (166-21).

14. Radio reception for emergency calls is far more efficient and satisfactory in this area because of the high elevations. Radio technicians have found atmospheric conditions produce erratic and unsatisfactory communication from the top of the mountain to lower levels where the proposed consolidation of the barracks in question are to be located.

15. Telephone communications in this area are now of the most modern type and are a very important consideration in police service.

Crandall suggested that if the Mount Pocono barracks are not modern or satisfactory enough for efficient operation, "other sites are believed available."

He also suggested it may be possible to secure private capital to build satisfactory accommodations similar to a plan adopted by the U. S. Post Office Department.

Red Cross Bloodmobile To Stop At CLU Club Today

FREE THEATER tickets, free oil, free baby sitters and free transportation.

That's the lineup for potential donors at today's visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the CLU Club. Hours will be from 9:15 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. and quota for the drive is 125 pints.

Each donor will receive a free ticket to the Grand Theater through the courtesy of Frank Meyers, manager, and a quart of Sinclair oil, courtesy of Charles F. Grace, local distributor.

Parents who wish to donate and who need a baby sitter may secure one by calling Hamilton 1-4251. Al Hertz, operator of Pocono Cab Co., will provide transportation to the club from either borough. Persons desiring this service may dial Hamilton 1-4400.

Frank Read, general chairman, reported yesterday he has approximately 130 pledge cards.

A meeting of the advisory committee of the Monroe County fire school will meet Sept. 17 to complete plans for the program. The committee includes chiefs of all county fire departments.

A Good Plan

The new automobile insurance plan which goes into effect in Pennsylvania next month will please a good many auto owners because it will produce lower premiums for those motorists who, by their good driving records, can qualify for rate discounts.

By the same token, those with poor driving records will pay higher rates, since they are worse risks.

The "safe driver" plan, regulated on a point system, recognizes the direct relationship between convictions for moving traffic violations and accidents. A driver who runs up a record of convictions develops a much greater probability of being involved in serious accidents than the motorist who drives his car in a lawful manner.

Those drivers not involved in chargeable accidents or convicted of moving traffic violations during the past three years can qualify for the maximum rate reduction of 15 percent.

Drivers convicted of traffic violations and/or involved in accidents will find their premiums raised as much as 100 percent.

The plan has considerable merit because it is based on reality—the past records of motorists. Those drivers whose experience has shown them to be the poorest insurance risks are the ones who should be required to pay the higher rates. The careful driver, by the same reasoning, should be assessed a lower premium.

Beyond that, however, is the beneficial effect the plan is expected to have on the driving habits of Pennsylvania drivers. The reward the point system holds out to motorists with good records should encourage safer driving in the years to come.

Opinions Of Other Editors

The Rights Of Honest Working Men

In attacking the Eisenhower Administration's proposed labor law, Speaker Rayburn the other day denounced it as a "genuine injustice to the rights of the honest, law-abiding working men and women of the country."

Mr. Rayburn gives no bill of particulars as to what rights would be infringed or how injustice would be done to honest working men.

But a look at the bill may give some inkling of what Mr. Rayburn thinks are the rights of honest working men.

The proposed legislation Mr. Eisenhower has endorsed would, in brief, do four things:

It would make all unions accountable to their members. This embraces the right of free and fair election of officers and the financial accountability of the union for funds collected from the members. It would make misappropriation of funds a punishable crime.

It would outlaw so-called "organization picketing." This is the use of picketing by a union against a company for which it is not the bargaining agent of the employees, picketing used to force a company to "recognize" a union its employees do not want.

It would outlaw secondary boycotts. This is union pressure against a company not involved in a labor dispute but which may handle the products of a distant company that is involved in one.

Aside from the injustice to a bystander company, the effect is also to injure the innocent employees of the bystander company; in some cases they have been thrown out of work entirely.

It would eliminate the present legal "no man's land" in which some labor disputes are governed by no law at all, federal or state. This lawless domain has been left by Supreme Court decisions holding that where federal agencies refuse jurisdiction in a labor dispute the state governments may not take jurisdiction.

You might suppose, from this list, that Speaker Rayburn considers it unjust to halt any of these practices. But no. The House bill Mr. Rayburn supports would have financial accountability by union leaders too; only it would not subject them to jail for malfeasance.

It would outlaw Mr. Hoffa's "hot cargo" clauses too; only it would not stop other union leaders from using other types of secondary boycotts. It would put some rules on "organizational picketing"; only it would not free a non-union worker from its pressures altogether.

So it is certainly true that the measure the President proposes is much tougher on union leaders than is the bill Speaker Rayburn espouses.

The Eisenhower-endorsed bill threatens union leaders with jail and takes away from them completely the instruments of "organizational picketing" and secondary boycotts that are their major weapons in disciplining not only management but maverick non-union workers.

It certainly curbs the privileges the union bosses have come to consider their rights.

The question, it seems to us, is whether the privileges of union leaders are the same thing as the rights of the honest, law-abiding working men and women of the country.

The Pennsylvania Story

Invitation To Nikita

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — There was considerable bantering on Capitol Hill this week over Gov. David L. Lawrence's invitation to Russian Premier Khrushchev to visit the fair State of Pennsylvania during his forthcoming visit to the United States next month.

Generally, the invite idea was looked upon favorably by lawmakers — with Republicans going along with Democrats in expressing the thought that the invitation at least could do no harm.

Mr. Lawrence suggested in his invitation that the Russian chief of state, or whatever he is, visit the Keystone State during the days of Sept. 25, 26, 27 or 28.

"Wouldn't that be a wow if he came to Capitol Hill during that period?" commented one Senator. "About that time the Legislature should be in the throes of adjournment and if Mr. Khrushchev would like to see Democracy in action—and a few odds and ends flying through the legislative air in anticipation of adjournment—he'd have a firsthand view!"

And, from a member of the House of Representatives: "By George when he got through with his visit here, he'd know that Pennsylvania is not in Lower Slobbovia — or Upper Slobbovia either, for that matter."

"Protocol Goof?" — One of the more curious aspects of the gubernatorial bid: The Governor's invitation is to be delivered by a local newspaper editor, part of a group now touring Russia — rather than Huntington County Rep. Orville E. Snare, also a member of the tour (at his own expense) but more importantly, the official representative of the State Legislature on the Russian visit by virtue of an almost unprecedented resolution adopted by the State House of Representatives, designating the Huntington lawmaker as its official representative.

Income Tax Twitch — When the State House of Representatives earlier in the week gave its stamp of approval to a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the graduated income tax in Pennsylvania, none of those in the know gave it more than a passing thought, although generally for a dull day it made good news copy.

Reason: The income tax plan long has been a pet talking point bogy for Pennsylvania Democrats. . . . The House of Representatives this year is controlled by Administration Democrats.

Pushing the income tax proposal became a moral obligation — and Democrats passed it in the lower chamber, knowing full well it will be given the brush-off treatment in the anti-administration GOP-controlled Senate.

Additionally — a constitutional amendment, such as required in the case of the graduated income tax, must be approved by two consecutive legislative sessions, a dead duck on such a controversial item.

On top of this it must be approved by the electorate at large!

Adventures In Japan

It's A Long, Hard Climb To Summit Of Mount Fuji

By Jonathan C. Brown

TOKYO — There is an old Japanese saying that "you are a fool if you don't climb Mt. Fuji once but you are also a fool if you climb it more than once."

When I came to Japan one of the things I really wanted to do was to climb Fuji, which is 12,395 feet high and the most famous mountain in Japan.

In the group with me were Mr. Welti, a teacher at the American High School, Mr. Pennington, the atomic energy attache at our embassy and his two sons, 10 and 15 years old. Also two other boys were with us, one of whom had climbed Fuji six times.

I carried a 25 pound sack with 10 pounds of camera in it, which I was to regret before I finished. I had two pairs of army-underwear, two heavy army shirts and shoes, all of which belonged to my Uncle Cecil.

I carried enough food to last for a week although you can get food at the 10 stations and many substations on the mountain. I also had a very coat which belonged to my aunt's grocer and a rain coat.

It was very hot the whole trip and I didn't unpack my knapsack although I surely felt how heavy it was.

When the group met, most of them had on shorts while I had on heavy underwear. We stood up on the train the whole three hour trip and I saw the beautiful mountains for which Japan is famous.

The most important thing to carry up the mountain is a Fuji pole. It is a big walking stick and at each station, sub-station and shrine you get it stamped for three cents.

After I got this stick and outfitted it with Japanese war and peace flags and bells which everybody had, and which drove everybody crazy, I was ready to climb though I still had not shed my heavy underwear.

The bus took us to the first station and after walking 100 yards with the sun boiling down I took off my cotton underwear with both sexes watching and laughing.

After the next 100 yards of going up a steep incline which lasted the whole way up except when the path was straight up, I was ready to throw away my pack and climb by horse, but I was reassured that I had gone one-thousandth of the way so with this encouragement I kept my feet going, mechanically. Now I know how a robot feels.

At about the fourth station I was almost dead but Mr. Pennington and his younger son took two horses and our pack and I began to feel like a new person.

For the first few miles of the climb the ground is very green, but as we reached the timber line we started to run into patches of lava. When we reached the seventh station where the horses had to stop we found our packs waiting.

We again started the climb up a steep slope which soon turned into a real mountain trail along high rocks, with only a chain to hold one's self from falling. About this time it began cooling off which made the climbing a little nicer but the path was crowded with people and by the time we got to the last of the seven stations where we were going to stay overnight, I was really exhausted.

At this station we ate a dinner of rice and some terrible canned meat and then climbed into the sleeping loft when seven of us had the space which would have been uncomfortable for a German Shepherd. We had quilts under us and on top of us so we were very warm.

We planned to get up at 2:30 a.m. so we could reach the summit and see the sun rise, but people kept coming into the inn all night long, and after laying awake for what seemed hours, three of us decided to go outside.

When we got outside we saw an illuminated line which was people with flashlights climbing at night to escape the heat of the day.

We went back in and were offered what we thought was "sake" but after a sip it was discovered it was whiskey. Finally they did give us some sake which tastes like wine and is very good.

We tasted this and teased Bill, who is Chinese and had never tasted it, to drink some. He did and liked it.

About this time, Mr. Welti, the American high school teacher came down and it turned into a jam session till we finally went up again to try to sleep.

At 2:30 in the morning we woke up and after fumbling around in the dark to collect our gear, we crawled over sleeping people to get out.

We succeeded in waking everyone but fortunately they were all good natured. It was about 40 degrees when we started to climb and we were soon separated in the solid line of people.

I soon started meeting U. S. Marines from Okinawa who had been on maneuvers in Japan and because they were "slow" their captain had "suggested" that they climb Mt. Fuji. Their two main topics of conversation were their blank captain and how many days before they got out, but after they ran out of these topics they were very nice.

I climbed most of the way

14 Treated At Hospital Dispensary

REPORTING at the dispensary for treatment was Charles Houck, Stroudsburg RD 2. He fell from a ladder and landed on his left elbow. It was discovered fractured and cast was required.

Beverly Bolcar, 15, Leathermen St., Stroudsburg, fell from her bicycle hitting her nose and forehead on the ground. Examination showed that the bridge of the nose was fractured, and she was treated for abrasions of the forehead.

Burton Souder, 16, Railroad St., Hudson, Pa., was involved in a truck accident in which he received lacerations of the left arm, hand and forehead. Eight stitches were taken in her forehead, and 16 in her left arm.

Louis Prowell, 23, Hamilton Road, Marion Station, Pa., a camper in the area, was playing hockey when her hand was hit by a stick. A splint was required for a fractured thumb of her right hand.

Robert Yost, 304 Badman St., Haddenville, N. J., a camper in the area, had a hunting knife embedded in his ankle. Eight stitches were required to sew up the cut.

Brook Mockler, 612 Zollinger Way, Marion, Pa., stepped on a rusty nail and received a puncture wound in the heel. The wound was treated and dismissed.

Frank Gallagher, 84 Third St., Stroudsburg, cut his hand on a piece of glass. Three stitches were taken.

Martin Calhoun, 120 Viner Ave., Olland, Pa., a camper in the area, fell and fractured his left thumb. A splint was applied.

Peter LaBar, 198 Meyers St., East Stroudsburg, was treated for a fish hook embedded in the third finger of his right hand.

Scotty Gallagher, 229 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, fell and lacerated his knee. One stitch was required to sew up the half inch cut.

Ernest Schuler, Normal St., East Stroudsburg, was feeding a cracker to a squirrel when it bit him between the thumb and second finger. The injury was not serious.

Nancy Moatner, 22 Sheridan Ave., Mount Vernon, N. Y., a camper in the area, was injured while playing volleyball. She landed on the surface of her right foot. She was treated and dismissed.

David Abel-Victor, Marvine Village, Bethlehem, also a camper, fell and broke both bones of her right wrist. Molded plastic splints were put on.

Joan Gannon, 669 East 31st St., Brook, Pa., was cleaning up some brush when she developed a rash on her face and forearms. She was treated at the dispensary and dismissed.

Builder Of Highways Succumbs

SUNBURY (AP)—Frederick D. Kessler, central Pennsylvania contractor and one-time Northumberland County treasurer, died Sunday in Geisinger Hospital, Danville. He was 73.

One of the state's best-known highway builders in the last 30 years, Kessler held the contract for construction of the first link of the Keystone Shortway. This work is now in progress.

Kessler was a leader in Republican politics and was twice elected a national delegate.

Surviving are his wife, Faye, a son and a daughter, a brother and two sisters.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Northumberland where he lived.

Church Extension Near Complete

APPENZELL—Members of the St. Mark's Union Church here are nearing completion of a $12,000 extension to the main body of the church.

The most unusual feature of the building program is that labor cost for construction of the addition totalled $69.00. All work, except for the welding of two steel beams across the basement, has been done by members of the congregation working nights, Saturdays and holidays.

Groundbreaking ceremonies took place August 19, 1956. Since then work has slowly progressed with 10 men carrying the major burden of construction.

A building committee composed of John Hardenstine, chairman, Sterling Miller, John Butz, Verdon Rustine, James A. Wallingford and floor Sunday school room is scheduled for Sept. 13, the basement, ground leveling, installation of lights, trim, and doors have yet to be completed.

The addition measures 40 by 50 feet, the first floor serving for Sunday school classes, the basement for a kitchen, lavatories, and a social room, and the attic for a heating plant.

Plans for the building were first discussed on March 6, 1956 at a meeting of St. Mark's Lutheran Council and Reformed Consistory.

A building committee composed of John Hardenstine, chairman, Sterling Miller, John Butz, Verdon Rustine, James A. Wallingford and Ray Paul was appointed in April of that year. Clair Wallingford was appointed treasurer of the building fund and Verdon Rustine, head of building operations.

Verdon Rustine and John Hardenstine were responsible for drawing up plans for the proposed construction.

The building has been financed in a number of ways. The first money came from a ham supper held in October, 1955. The Sunday school added $2,464.46, the Reformed Ladies Aid $1,100 and the Lutheran Ladies Aid $1,100 to give the building committee a total of $4,164.46 to begin purchasing materials.

The remainder of the $12,000 was raised through contributions, subscriptions and the ladies auxiliaries.

Other contributions include the stained glass windows and the heating system, installed in the attic.

St. Mark's Church was first established in 1851 and was built for $964.82. Peter Miller, Jacob Kresge and Thomas Burger were the building committee at that time. It took 299 subscriptions to finance the construction.

The first minister was Rev. John P. Decker and Rev. Edward T. Horn is the present pastor.

Commissioners Accept County Home Cottage

THE State Department of Highways has said it is not an interested party in the proposed public hearing on the closing of Gravel Place Railroad Crossing in Stroud Township. It has asked the Public Utility Commission to release it from the hearing.

A copy of a department letter to the PUC was sent to Monroe County Solicitor Leo A. Achterman who made the announcement yesterday during the county commissioners' meeting.

Under the Act of Aug. 19, 1953 that part of the road including the crossing was deleted from the state highway system, the department said, and the road is now known as Township Route 670.

The commissioners inspected and accepted the finished superintendent's cottage at the Monroe County Home, Kellersville, in the afternoon. It is a one-story bungalow with a living room, two bedrooms, a bath and kitchen. The moving of the superintendent to his new quarters will provide room for more inmates in the home.

During their morning meeting the commissioners approved $351 in extra costs for the bungalow, including the addition of floor space.

Consulting Engineer Leo A. Achterman Jr. said the new county bridge being built over Pohopoco Creek near Effort in Chestnut-hill Township may be ready for traffic in another month. The concrete piers were recently poured by G. H. Litts, East Stroudsburg R.D. 2, the general contractor.

The commissioners received a bill for $84 to cover damage in the county jail when James Smith, 21, of Baltimore, Md., set fire to his cell a second time. Smith's cot was warped out of shape and a carpenter was needed to make repairs in the cell. A plumbing bill is still to come. Smith ripped a sink out of the wall.

A total of 1,306 persons received surplus food from the county Tuesday and Wednesday. Chief Clerk H. Ray Saunders reported. Last month a total of 1,876 turned up.

MONROE County General Hospital last night reported the condition of John C. Romaine, 54, Patchogue, Long Island, N.Y., as critical.

Romaine was pinned upside down for more than an hour in the cab of his tractor-trailer after a head-on crash with another tractor-trailer in Stroudsburg early Wednesday.

He was listed in fair condition by the hospital until yesterday. He suffered a broken leg, fractured ribs and multiple cuts, the hospital reported.

House Passes Legal Aid Legislation

HARRISBURG—The House of Representatives passed a bill providing all indigent persons who are defendants in legal action, and who are without funds, must be represented by legal counsel.

The bill, passed 147-41, provides a nominal fee for such services.

Under present circumstances, such persons only have counsel in those counties where the bar associations provide such counsel.

Food, previously frozen, which has been thawed, must be marked, according to another bill passed by the House. Support of the Department of Agriculture's pure food division was given the measure.

Passed 173-15 was a bill providing no justice of the peace in a second class township shall also act as secretary, or secretary-treasurer of the township's board of supervisors.

Yetter Opposed

Among those voting against the move was Van D. Yetter, Jr., Monroe County legislator.

A bill introduced in the House would prohibit Liquor Control Board agents from using arrests of licensees for violations of laws of the Commonwealth by any police officer as the basis for a citation unless there has been a conviction before a court.

A second bill dealing with liquor enforcement, would allow the separate subdivisions to determine the actual closing time of licensed bars through a referendum at the polls.

Licensees have long desired to keep open until 2 a.m. Sunday, since, they claim, allowing clubs to remain open until 3 a.m. is discriminatory.

During their morning meeting the commissioners approved $351 in extra costs for the bungalow, including the addition of floor space.

Consulting Engineer Leo A. Achterman Jr. said the new county bridge being built over Pohopoco Creek near Effort in Chestnut-hill Township may be ready for traffic in another month. The concrete piers were recently poured by G. H. Litts, East Stroudsburg R.D. 2, the general contractor.

Association To Protest Sales Tax

MEMBERS of the Pennsylvania Tavern Assn., along with beer distributors and brewery representatives will protest the inclusion of their industry in the new four percent sales tax next Monday in Harrisburg.

It is not a sales tax but an excise tax, as far as the industry is concerned, they say.

The four percent sales tax bill as passed by the House calls for the retail seller to pay the tax at the source. For liquor and wine, it would be paid at the state store. For malt beverages, it would be paid to the distributor or the brewery.

Originally the bill called for the consumer to pay the tax when he bought from the retailer in bars and restaurants.

Lack Of Votes

The bill was changed because House Democrats were not able to raise the necessary votes to pass the bill in its original form. Collecting the tax at its source, however, will reduce the estimated yield for the biennium from about $9 to $8 million dollars.

The industry says the bill as passed defines the retailer as a consumer, thus making it impossible for him to get back the tax money from restaurant and bar patrons except through higher prices.

In this business, at this time, few if any retailers can raise their prices, the industry says. If one retailer declines to do so in an area, all retailers will be nailed to a competitive cross.

Reds Demand Evacuation Of Americans

LONDON (AP) — Communist China Wednesday night demanded the evacuation of all American military advisers and equipment from Laos. Peiping claimed fighting in the tiny kingdom was "engineered from first to last by the United States."

A foreign affairs spokesman for Mao Tze-tung's government accused the United States of threatening Red China's security and the peace of Southeast Asia.

His "commentary," broadcast by Peiping radio, said American activities in the sleepy, poppy-growing country in Southeast Asia "will certainly be firmly opposed by the Chinese government and people."

The broadcast charged U. S. officers were in control of the Laotian army and want to turn the country into "an American military base and drag it step by step into the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization."

Tough Language

This tough language was reminiscent of the warnings issued by Peiping at the time of Communist China's intervention in the Korean War in 1950. Korea and Laos both border on Communist China.

Broadcasts from Hanoi—capital of bearded Ho Chi Minh's Communist regime North Vietnam—echoed the Peiping charges. Military newspapers in Moscow said just about the same thing.

The U. S. State Department has denied repeatedly the substance of Communist charges that America is turning Laos into a military base. Washington has accused Communist China and North Vietnam of trying to keep Southeast Asia in turmoil by encouraging strife in Laos.

The diplomatic storm, however, was far more intense than the military one. Apparently there has been no significant fighting in Laos for a week or 10 days. The Laotian government admitted that its original reports of Communist infiltration were overdrawn.

In Gettysburg, Pa., President Eisenhower told a news conference he will discuss the trouble in Laos with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev when he visits Washington next month.

The Laotian disturbances began just when East-West tensions appeared to be easing in Europe in anticipation of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks.

Highway Inspection Set Today

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Highways Department said it will make a final inspection today of a rebuilt section of state Route 29 at the Mahoning Valley Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike's Northeast Extension.

A new four-lane divided highway was started at the interchange connection last September.

Cost Estimate

Cost estimate on the work was $617,151, of which the federal government paid two-thirds.

The Highways Department said the section, between Weissport and Lehighton in Carbon County, could be formally opened a day or two after the inspection is completed, although traffic is using it now.

PLAY

'Lend An Ear' To Begin Run At Pocono Playhouse

MOUNTAINHOME—The refreshing, fast, tuneful and funny musical "Lend An Ear" will be the next production here at Pocono Playhouse, beginning Monday night. Jennie Lou Law will have the starring role, supported by actors in the original New York production.

"Lend An Ear" proved its popularity in an impressive number of productions. Charles Gaynor, versatile creator of all its music, lyrics and sketches, originally wrote it for the Pittsburgh Playhouse and it proved such a success that the South Shore Players brought it to Coopersett for their Summer season.

Movie actor, William Eythe looking for material in Hollywood, remembered its fresh and spontaneous appeal and invited Gaynor to restage it for Hollywood.

It proved a smash success there, winning the raves of critics and public alike and when it opened last on Broadway, it immediately became the toast of the town, playing well over a year to crowded audiences before the show went on the road for a year-long National tour.

Opera Company

In gay exuberant fashion, "Lend An Ear" throws probability to the winds in portraying the adventures of a second-rate touring opera company which has lost its orchestra and massacres grand opera in the process with beautiful precision and outrageous relish.

Miss Law won enthusiastic personal notices in the original New York production of "Lend An Ear." She was later seen in "Maggie" and "New Faces" and received great acclaim for her outstanding performance as Miss Bridie, in "Friday Dancing Class."

Miss Law will be remembered by Playhouse audiences as the gay Mme. Bonnet in last season's production of "The Boy Friend."

Included in the supporting cast are Al Checco, of the original Broadway company, Elizabeth Allen, Rod Strong, Sandi Bonner, June Squibb, Gloria Evans, Sherry McCutcheon, Jeff Warren, Jack Edelman and Maureen Bailey.

The play will be directed by Miss Law and will continue through Saturday, August 22, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

New Rubber

"Drivers will get 15 percent more mileage out of the new rubber," Firestone said, "which also is silent and soft riding."

Firestone said Rubber X-99 has been approved for immediate use in the firm's Premium Quality tire. The Premium Quality, a blowout-safe, puncture-proof tire, is the top tire in the company's line.

Senators Split On Youth Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's senators split Thursday in a vote on bill to establish a Youth Conservation Corps. Sen. Joseph Clark, a Democrat, was with the 47-man majority in favor of the bill. Sen. Hugh Scott, a Republican, voted against the measure.

'Gigi' Slated For Ross Common

ROSS COMMON — "Gigi" opens at the Ross Common Playhouse Tuesday, August 18, with 8:40 performances nightly through Saturday.

Star of "Gigi" is Gennie Phillips who will play the title role.

Miss Phillips, a native of New York City, has had a wide variety of theatrical experience including three seasons of Summer stock, appearances on WRCA radio and CBS television.

Major Roles

She was seen in the off-Broadway production of "Career" and in the New York Dance Review. She has played major roles in "Little Women," "Picnic" and "Glass Menagerie".

The current Ross Common production of "Come Back Little Sheba" runs through Saturday, with 8:40 performances nightly.

Effort

Daily vacation Bible School started Monday with 60 children in attendance. It will continue through Aug. 22. On Sunday night, Aug. 23 a closing program will be held in Effort Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m.

The play will be directed by Miss Law and will continue through Saturday, August 22, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Production Scheduled At Bushkill

BUSHKILL—"Dangerous Corner" by J. B. Priestly, will open the eighth and ninth weeks of plays at the Bushkill Playhouse on Tuesday, August 18.

A suspense drama concerning truth and how the telling of it affects the lives of the people involved, makes for action that moves rapidly to a surprising climax.

Sid Gorelick in his first starring role at Bushkill, appears in "Dangerous Corner" as Robert Chatfield.

Sid, a graduate of the American Theatre Wing in New York City, was an actor with considerable experience before coming east from California. He has had roles in Summer stock with such stars as John Ireland, Joanne Dru, Una Merkel, Betty Field, and Maria Palmer.

He has been seen at the Bushkill Playhouse this season in "Private Lives," "Tunnel of Love," and "The Reluctant Debutante."

Julie Craig co-stars with Gorelick as Freda Chatfield. After graduating from college with a major in speech, Julie also attended the American Theatre Wing in New York City. She has studied dancing at the June Taylor School of Dance and has worked as Woman's Director for both radio and television.

She has already appeared at Bushkill Playhouse as the star of "Tunnel of Love" and "The Moon is Blue," in addition to "The Waltz of the Toreadors" and "Separate Tables."

Mildred Dulany, who will have an important role in "Dangerous Corner" will direct the play.

Miss Dulany, a graduate of the Goodman Theatre in Chicago, has spent many years on the stage and on radio. She has already been seen this season in the starring roles of "Private Lives" and "The Reluctant Debutante."

Also in the cast are Anna Steele, Dale Shields, Jack Randall, and Marjorie Nichols.

"Dangerous Corner" will be presented at the Bushkill Playhouse, 12 miles east of Stroudsburg on Route 209, for two weeks through Saturday, August 29 at 8:40 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling LUther: 8-9979.

Witness Refuses To Testify On Apalachin Convention

NEW YORK (AP)—A Buffalo restaurant owner refused Thursday to answer State Investigation Commission questions about the Apalachin underworld convention. The commission will seek to jail him for contempt.

The witness, Roy Carlisi, 50, took the Fifth Amendment on advice of counsel despite a commission promise to grant him immunity from state prosecution.

The commission directed Carlisi to return Friday, when it expects to serve a Supreme Court order requiring him to show why he should not be jailed for contempt.

Seven Jailed

Since last summer, seven men who attended the convention have been jailed on the same charge. Three have been released after giving what was deemed acceptable testimony.

Carlisi is listed by authorities as among more than 60 underworld figures and associates who attended the convention in the Tioga County hamlet of Apalachin Nov. 14, 1957. It was held at the estate of Joseph Barbara Sr., who died last June.

Carlisi's counsel advised him not to talk on the ground that the commission had not conferred "full and complete immunity" upon him.

Carlisi was convicted last May of contempt of a Tioga County grand jury, which also was investigating the Apalachin meeting. Carlisi, sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $3,750, is appealing his conviction.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

One man's meat is another man's poison, and one day's weather is perfect for one person and misery for another—and sometimes both for one person. When a friend was surprised that Helen Haynes had played golf in the rain on Sunday, her explanation was:

"It never rains on a golf course." And it's never too hot, either. But somehow the same warm sun and brisk breeze and high humidity that seemed so pleasant on the golf course turned into an oppressive, dripping heat as soon as I hit the office.

Walking five miles on the golf course is nothing, but walking the few blocks to town seems really a chore. Although it did set me to wondering why we've never really made an as-set of the Pocono Creek and the unused land under the bridge.

There's quite a sizable piece of property under there and it looks cool, shady and inviting. When or if the second phase of the Thru-Way is finished, it will become very accessible, too.

Of course, I suppose it is pretty well flooded during the Spring freshets but if the old Erie used to run along there, the flooding can't be too serious. With land in town growing so scarce, seems as if the town could do something with it. In fact the whole lower Ann Street section could be one of the showplaces of the town with the creek and the trees and the waterfalls.

Besides, such speculations kept me hanging over the bridge in the breeze and delayed my return to the desk by that many minutes. Finally had to admit to myself, though, that it's not the weather but work that I must be allergic to.

Motto For TV Career: Have Skill, Will Work

By Anne Heywood
It's an interesting thing to see how, when a new field comes along, the people who have the talents necessary for that field suddenly appear.

Twenty years ago the public at large had scarcely heard of television. Yet today it is a busy field, completely equipped with all kinds of people who have the diversified talents necessary for it.

So far as I can see, they have some from all kinds of backgrounds and from all kinds of fields. The one common denominator of the successful ones is that they have worked their heads off to get where they are in this new and highly competitive industry.

Perfect Background
There's Angela McDermott, now associate director of the Council for a Television Course in the Humanities for Secondary Schools, Inc. This is one of the most exciting projects now going on in the all-important field of educational television and one for which Angela's background seems custom-made.

I was telling a friend about Angela's new job recently, and he remarked:

"Some people have all the luck!"

It's an expression I hear all the time, especially in connection with people like Angela, who get dream jobs in television.

Yet much more than luck went into it, as witness her background.

Sound Education
Angela got her B.S. at Ithaca College. She had considerable teaching experience in high school English, drama and public speaking and as a college librarian. There was a stint in the Navy — in communications.

Then, when she realized her heart was in television, she got her M.S. at Syracuse University, meanwhile working every evening on sponsored shows. She also wrote, produced and directed.

Kresge Clan In Reunion On Saturday

"Cum, mach dich bekannt und schen die Freundschaft," read the invitations to the 53rd annual reunion of the descendants of Conrad Kresge, pioneer settler, to be held this Saturday in the West End Fairgrounds in Gil-lertown.

Judge Ethan A. Gearhart, Al-lentown, Judge of the Orphan's Court of Lehigh County, will be the speaker. The program will begin at 2 p.m. with the John Kresge Band of Mahoning Val-ley furnishing the music.

There will be a basket picnic and prizes for the oldest man, oldest woman, longest married couple, most newlymarried, the youngest child, the largest fami-ly of the clan as well as an attendance prize.

Officers of the reunion are: president, Willard K. Kresge, Gilbert; secretary, Lloyd H. Kresge, Pearl River, N. Y.; treasurer, William H. Kresge, Brodheadsville; and historian, Clarence Hark, Cherryville.

Baby Shower For Mrs. Shook At Pocohontas

Analomink — Mrs. Howard Woolever was hostess at a baby shower for her daughter, Mrs. Laurence Shook of East Stroudsburg on Wednesday night at Pocohontas Club where she makes her home.

Ti gifts were placed in a bassinet decorated with yellow material, pink rosebuds and green leaves.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Charles Shimer and daughter, Carolyn, Mrs. Jack Hine-line, Mrs. Don Summa and daughter Marie and Mrs. Dorothy Sandus, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Walter Shumaker and daughter, Mrs. Betty Alle-bone of Mount Bethel, Mrs. Richard Barry and Mrs. Clar-ence Ackerman, Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Melvin Bush of Ana-lomink.

She Worked In Many Fields Before Getting A TV Job

people asking how to get into television. I get many such letters.

My answer is usually something like this:

"It's an overcrowded field.

You'll have to be sure you want it badly enough to work keep-ing toward it, regardless of dis-couragements—of which there will be plenty.

Special Training

"You'll have to be willing to take special training and studies. On the other hand, you'll have to be willing to forget your training, if necessary, and start in the lowest possible kind of job."

But if you do, you'll find, as

Angela McDermott has, that the satis-factions more than equal the effort required.

Federated Women Meet To Discuss New Art Center

Representatives of the member clubs of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs were brought up to date on one of the newest cultural ventures of the Poconos, the Pocono Art Center, at a meeting called for that purpose this week and held at Greenview Guest Farm.

Mrs. Marcia Clapp De Rocca described the facilities available and the story of how they had been made possible through public cooperation. She defined the goal of the center: "To instruct the talent of the children in the community, and to assist them in achieving their goals in their chosen fields."

Hannas, president of the Women's Club of the Stroudsburgs; Mrs. James Manhardt, president of the Barrett Community Club; Mrs. Lawrence Levy, first vice president of the Junior Woman's Club; and Mrs. John Wolfe, county fine arts chairman attended the meeting.

In other business, it was announced that the Northeast District meeting will be held September 22 at the Allentown Woman's Club with reservations to be made with the club presidents by September 17. The new president of the district, Mrs. Walter Wilmuth of King-sley will preside.

A question and answer period followed with many suggestions for community participation.

Topic Of
Rotary Talk

ERIC DANISCH, Scottron, was the speaker yesterday before the Rotary Club of the Stroudsburg, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The subject of his talk, treated with some humor, was "Baldness."

According to Danisch, baldness has always been a subject of great interest. In support of this theory, he quoted from Greek and Roman sources to show the importance of baldness in daily living.

Own Experience
Danisch described very interestingly the various types of baldness, and being bald himself, the speaker described his own experiences in treating baldness.

Danisch admitted he had been unsuccessful despite using every kind of treatment possible.

Danisch kept his audience in a state of enthusiasm throughout the talk.

Chairman for the meeting was Spencer Cramer, while Walter Sebring presided.

Poconos To Coast A Must

"SEND the Poconos to the West Coast" is blossoming higher than orbit. Townspeople, business firms and service organizations are moving into high gear to assure that Stroudsburg's State Softball Champions (Twin City) will participate in the International World Congress Softball Tournament at Long Beach, Calif., the week of Aug. 30-Sept. 7.

A proclamation by the burgesses of the two boroughs of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, endorsing the project is also forthcoming.

Private citizens from all walks of life in Monroe County and its surrounding territory have voiced their powerful opinion that sending the Poconos to Long Beach is must.

The Daily Record, through its news median urges the public to get behind this once-in-a-lifetime shot in the arm for the Pocono Mountains.

At no other time has such a bonanza been tossed at the feet of the populous of the Poconos. Just imagine the name of the Mountains, its resorts and available industrial sites, etc., will be looked upon 3,000 miles away.

Of course the representative Poconos softball team will be the messengers of this information. But what finer team than the champions of Pennsylvania could we have spelling the Poconos on the Pacific Coast.

There is only 15 days left for the drive for funds to send the Poconos to the West Coast. Fast action must take place during this time to assure success of the campaign.

One big feature of this campaign is that besides sending the Poconos westward, all monies left over will be given to a worthwhile charity. And there is a possibility that the coffers of this particular charity will be enriched quite a bit.

Officially the campaign to send the Pocono softballers westward-ho starts today. We can see no reason why the drive doesn't go over the top.

In this particular instance we would like to be called a liar when faced with the figures that the goal had been reached in a week's time.

California or Bust, $2500 or fail. What is it going to be?

Plan Booster Night For 'Lil Lakers

SAYLORS LAKE Fishing Association sponsors of the Saylors Lake Indians who are members of the West End Little League announce Baseball Booster Night on Friday, Aug. 14, at 8 p. m. at the Saylors Lake Pavilion. Admission is free.

There will be free dancing, musical entertainment and cake walk. All teams participating in this League and teams who have appeared on the Saylors Lake schedule along with the general public are invited. All teams are asked to attend in uniforms if possible.

Proceeds of this night will be used to send players of the Saylors Lake team to Philadelphia on August 23rd to see the Phillies play host to the San Francisco Giants.

On Sunday, August 16, at 6 p. m. on the Saylors Lake Field a cup playoff will be played between the Easton PALS, playing in the Easton Midget League and the Saylors Lake Indians.

This cup is being donated by Witold Tiliwick, owner of Saylors Lake Inc. representing clean sportsmanship and friendliness between these two communities.

The series will be played over a three-year period with the team winning two out of three to retain possession of the cup.

Seeks Archie, Sugar

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Matchmaker George Parnassus said Thursday he will try to line up a light heavyweight title fight at Memorial Coliseum between Champion Archie Moore and Sugar Ray Robinson. "There is no telling what it will draw," Parnassus said, "but three-quarters of a million is a reasonable estimate."

Robinson has been stripped of the middleweight title by the NBA but he still is recognized as champion in New York State.

Cubs Rap Giants In Weird Game

CHICAGO (AP) — In a 3 hour 0 minute game, longest 9-inning affair in National League history, the Chicago Cubs Thursday hammered a 20-9 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

The previous longest contest was 3:43 in the Cubs 23-13 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals on April 17, 1954. The major league record for nine innings is 3:52 in Boston's 14-10 victory over New York on May 25, 1953.

Nats Hand Yankees 2nd Straight Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Russ Kemmerer won his first game since June 28 Thursday as Harmon Killebrew led Washington to a 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Killebrew, who has been struggling in a slump, drove in two runs with a pair of doubles in the first and third off loser Bob Turley. He singled and scored in the fifth when Washington opened up a 5-1 lead.

The Senators hopped on Turley for two in the first inning. Ken Aspromonte doubled and Len Green beat out a bunt single. After Bob Allison struck out, Jim Lemon's sacrifice fly scored Aspromonte and Killebrew's first double drove home Green.

Allison and Lemon singled before Killebrew bounced a 430-foot ground rules double into the left field bleachers scoring Allison. Lemon came in on pinch hitter Julio Bequer's sacrifice fly.

The Senators added another run in the fifth on a single by Killebrew, a walk and a wild throw by Bobby Richardson.

It was the second straight for the Senators who came to Yankee Stadium Wednesday night with a four-game losing streak.

Vynn, Homers Lead Chisox To 9-0 Win

DETROIT (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, normally a band of cream-puff hitters, erupted for four home runs in support of Early Wynn's three-hit pitching and beat the Detroit Tigers 9-0 Thursday.

The crafty right-hander picked up his 16th victory — high in the American League. It was his 26th triumph in a major league career dating back to 1939. The shutout was Wynn's fifth of the season and 42nd of his career.

It also was Wynn's second straight shutout. He also shut out Washington on three hits last Sunday.

Grabs Early Lead

Homers by Jim Landis and Bob Phillips gave the league-leaders a 4-0 bulge in the first inning. Landis belted his fifth into the centerfield seats for three runs before Tiger Loser Don Mossi could retire a batter.

The members have also been invited to play at Water Gap Country Club on Wednesday, August 26 with tee-off time at 9 a. m. Those who have not signed up may call Oriole Nittrauer or the pr oshop.

Jean Kiefer, president, named a nominating committee: Doris Imbot, chairman; Bobby Westbrook and Betty Schell, who will report on the last ladies day September 3.

Staley, Lown Pale Hose's Aces In Hole

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP) — The keystone firm of Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio gets the giant's share of the praise for the Chicago White Sox's surge toward their possible first pennant in 40 years.

The second baseman and shortstop supply the Sox with dare and speed and defense.

But Manager Al Lopez, an old catcher, singles out his bull pen brigade for equal credit.

His star relievers are two journeymen who have kicked around in the majors for many years. One, Gerry Staley, will be 39 Aug. 21. The other, Turk Lown, is 35. "They've been life savers for us," said Lopez. "They've been more important than I figured because Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan haven't had good years."

Vital To Club

"Good relief pitching is especially vital with our type of club. We don't make many runs so we always need somebody to put out the fire and protect a lead."

The Sox have won 27 one-run games and lost only six.

Staley, a tough sinker ball pitcher, has won five games this season, one more than his output last year. He has saved six additional victories for other White Sox hurlers. Lown has eight victories and eight saves.

The relieving roommates have been undefeated in six decisions since the first All-Star game July 7. It was about then the White Sox made their push to the front.

"These guys have plenty of experience and get the ball over," said Lopez. "That's what counts. My two give us about the best bull pen in the league."

Hawks Ink Ferrari

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Al Ferrai signed his 1959-60 contract with St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn. Thursday. He was the ninth member of the Western division champions to come to terms. Ferrai scored 413 points in 72 games last season.

Thursday's wild game, that kept 17,936 sweltering Wrigley Field fans hooting and hollering, had everything — temper flareups, ejection of two players and a manager, backfiring strategy, protests, eight homers and other assorted antics.

It was played under protest from the fifth inning on.

Bill Rigney, manager of the leading Giants, lodged it. He charged interference after the Cubs' Tony Taylor, reaching third base, calmly stepped from the bag to field a foul grounder hit by teammate Ernie Banks.

2 Thrown Out

The first inning set the whacky tempo. Jack Sanford, first of seven Giant pitchers, began glaring at plate umpire Hal Dixon over a called ball. Teammate Daryl Spencer added his two cents. Rigney raced to the mound to calm the situation. Dixon waved out Spencer and then Sanford.

In the third inning, skipper Bob Scheffing of the Cubs was given the heave by Umpire Vinny Smith for protesting a play at first base.

In the fourth inning some strategy by Rigney went awry and the Cub scored four runs.

Three times Rigney ordered intentional passes, filling the bases on each. Two receiving the gifts, Banks and Irv Noren, scored on Art Schult's pinch single. Two more runs counted on unassisted first base outs that were sandwiched between the free walks.

To top off the shenanigans, two Giant pitchers, Al Worthington and Mike McCormick, found themselves on the mound at the same time in the sixth inning before it was decided the former really was the relief hurler.

It was the second straight for the Senators who came to Yankee Stadium Wednesday night with a four-game losing streak.

Moore Sure Of Beating Johansson

MONTREAL (AP) — Ole Archie Moore Thursday expressed confidence he could whip world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

"I only hope he takes up that offer to fight for me," said the 42-year-old champion. "I don't see where he would be any great problem for me. I showed I'm a much better finisher than he is."

Moore responded to his four knockout kuyo of Canada's Yvon Durelle in 2:52 of the third round of his title defense at the Forum Wednesday night.

Easton outdid the 'Lil Lakers but the host team made the most of their six safeties.

Billy Eisel hurled the victory and got batting help from Hahn.

INDIA SEEKS NET MIRACLE

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Two young Indians from halfway across the world will try for a tennis miracle — victory over the heavily favored Australians in the inter-zone Davis Cup finals.

"It's a big order but we may surprise," said Ramanathan Krishnan, the No. 1 star, acting Captain and Liaison man of the undermanned eastern zone champions.

Krishnan plays Australia's Rod Laver in the opening singles match at 1 p.m. (EST) at the Longwood Cricket Club. The second match sends Premjit Lall, a 19-year-old Calcutta student, against tough Neale Fraser.

Members are urged to attend this meeting. Anyone interested in joining PMSCA is invited.

Gordie Howe Signs

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings Wednesday signed Gordie Howe for his 14th season in the National Hockey League. The right winger ranks second only to Montreal's Maurice Richard in career scoring with 418 goals. Richard has 525 goals in 17 seasons.

Get Opening Match

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Beverly Fleitz a Long Beach, Calif., and Angie Mortimer of Torquay, England, were drawn Thursday to play the opening match Saturday in the 31st Wightman Cup tennis matches. Mrs. Fleitz and Miss Mortimer are both rated No. 2 on their national teams. The two top-ranked players, Christine Truman of London and Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., were drawn to play in the second match of opening day.

Plans were adopted to send the league's players to see the Phillips and San Francisco Giants in the Quaker City, Saturday, Aug. 22.

Busses will leave at 8:25 a.m. from the Stroudsburg YMCA building.

Tonight at Little League Park Stroudsburg a game which will go a long way in determining the second half championship will be played. The clash pits Veteran of Foreign Wars against Wykoff-Sears. Freddie Frantz will hurl for V-S, while Glenn Bisbing will pitch for the Vets.

A Vets triumph will cinch the second half flag. VFW also won the first half. A Wykoff-Sears victory however will throw the two teams into a deadlock, with the Vets still having one more game to play.

Inge Interested

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Ingemar Johansson said Thursday he is interested in reports of a $1,000,000 offer to defend his world heavyweight title against Archie Moore but Floyd Patterson, the ex-champ, still holds first place as a contender.

Johnson Faces Stiff Test In TV Bout With Miteff

NEW YORK (AP)—Alonzo Johnson, an ambitious young heavyweight who has won 13 straight, takes on big Alex Miteff of Argentina Friday night in the last boxing show of the summer season at Madison Square Garden.

Johnson was largely unknown outside of Pittsburgh and Bradock, Pa., until this year when he crashed the top 10 rankings by whipping Nino Valdes and Willie Pastrano. Now they are comparing him to Ezzard Charles at the same stage.

The only fight Johnson has lost while compiling a 17-1 pro record was a six-round preliminary with Cortez Stewart in 1957.

Miteff also broke away to a sensational start as a pro after winning the Pan-American Games heavyweight title as an amateur in 1954. He won 12 in a row as pro before Mike Dejohn knocked him out in one round. The Argentine ran into some heavy going in the last year when he was held to a draw by George Chuvalo in Toronto, stopped in one round by Willie Besmanoff in Seattle and lost a decision to highly ranked Zora Folley in Denver.

Miteff snapped out of his slump by knocking out Harold Carter in April. In his last outing, May 22, he won a close but unanimous decision over Wayne Bethea. His career record is 18-3-1. He will have about 18 pounds on Johnson, approximately 203 to 185 pounds.

Hogan said Bill Rosenshain, the promoter, would return for more questioning Aug. 28.

"He (Rosenshain) gave up certain information which includes the names of persons whom we questioned since we last talked to him," said Hogan. "There are certain matters with which these witnesses do not agree. We will try to talk to him again to try to establish the facts."

Cus D'Amato, manager of Patterson, the former champion who lost his title to Johnson, testified Thursday before the grand jury investigating boxing. No details of his testimony were available.

D'Amato left the building just by knocking out Harold Carter in April. In his last outing, May 22, he won a close but unanimous decision over Wayne Bethea. His career record is 18-3-1. He will have about 18 pounds on Johnson, approximately 203 to 185 pounds.

New Park Area Open At Tobyhanna

TOBYHANNA—The new tent and trailer area at Tobyhanna State Park was opened yesterday. It is located across the lake from the beach area.

M. M. Gordon, Lackawanna District forester, said the area encompasses 140 units—124 for tents and 16 for trailers.

Each tent site is 60 by 60 feet, with 20 by 20 living areas and adjacent parking space for vehicles. The park supplies a table and two side benches for each unit. Each family must furnish its own tent or trailer.

Drilled Wells

Gordon said the new area has three drilled wells and four double latrines. Fees charged by the state are as follows: one day, $1; two days, $1.50; three days, $2; four days, $2.50; five to seven days, $3; eight to 10 days, $4, and 11 to 14 days, $5.

The maximum rental period is two weeks. Permits and other information may be obtained at the Tobyhanna State Park office.

The park, together with adjoining Gouldsboro State Park, cover 8,000 acres. Both are popular with vacationers.

Robbery At Gas Station

KRESGEVILLE—Burglars entered the Kresgeville Gulf Station here sometime Monday night and took about $15 from a cigarette vending machine.

State Police at Lehighton said a larger sum of money in a cash register and desk drawer was overlooked. Entry was gained by breaking a window on the north side of the building.

The burglary was discovered by Jake K. Smith of Effort, the proprietor, when he opened the station at 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Dogs On Patrol

GAZA (AP)—The Danish-Norwegian Danor battalion arriving in October as a replacement unit in the U.N. Emergency Force will include 10 Norwegian dogs for patrol duty. Dogs have served successfully for more than a year with the Swedish unit of the U.N.E.F. or the Egypt-Israeli borders.

The Great Discovery of the Age

Today's growing interest in spiritual healing has naturally caused many to wonder what Christian Science is and how it heals.

Here's a fine opportunity to gain firsthand information about this religion which teaches that the spiritual laws of God can be understood and applied to human problems of every kind.
